

2011 International Development Cooperation Student Paper Competition

Proposals to Proceed to Phase II

- Luis B. Gomez L., Shih-Hong Su, mentored by Dr. Chung-Hsiang Hsieh, National Pingtung University of Science & Technology
“Establishment of Rapid Screening Technique for Dominican Rice Genotypes to Drought Tolerance”
- Tooreka Teemari, Min-Chien Huang, mentored by Dr. Hsueh-Jung Lu, National Taiwan Ocean University
“Tuna distribution in relation with climatic variability in the Tropical Pacific Region: Indicator of Food Security and income revenue”
- Idrissa Beogo, Cheng-Yu Ho, mentored by Dr. Nicole Huang, National Yang-Ming University
“For-profit healthcare provider seekers: characteristics and choices patterns in urban Burkina Faso”
- Christopher Belford, De-Yan Hsieh, mentored by Dr. Ching-Cheng Chang, National Taiwan University
“The Gambia's Agriculture Rejuvenation Project for Capacity Building in Training and Development”
- Fatima del Carmen Caceres Santamaria, Sheng-Ming Hsu, mentored by Dr. Shih-Hsun Hsu, National Taiwan University
“Study of Climate Change Adaptation to Sustainable Agricultural Development in Nicaragua”
- Jose Manuel Reinosa, 游孟諭, mentored by Dr. Long-Full Lin, Kun Shan University
“Generation of Methane by Anaerobic Treatment From Cow Manure”

Notes:

1. Each team will soon receive a Letter of Suggestion intended to provide with feedback for improvements or revisions.

2. According to the competition rules, teams selected in Phase I will continue on to Phase II, during which they will collect data and write up their findings. The deadline for student paper is October 22, 2011.